GENERAL INFORMATION

Purpose

It is the primary purpose of the Law School of Golden Gate College to prepare the student for the successful practice of the legal profession in any common law jurisdiction. In furtherance of such purpose, instruction is given not only in relation to case law of the past, but with the view of familiarizing the student with the present period of transition of law as it meets the needs of a complex urban civilization.

The study of law is approached from a viewpoint of common interest secured by law and their effective protection by the courts.

Experience as well as democratic principles point the need for the maintenance of the evening law school as an important and necessary part of our system of legal education. The Law School of Golden Gate College has dedicated itself to the filling of this need by offering to ambitious men and women a high grade of instruction in the law, through a curriculum carefully prepared to equip them with the knowledge and training necessary for admission to the bar and the successful practice of the profession.

In carrying out its primary purpose, it is the policy of the law school to give particular attention to developing in its students the ability to analyze a problem in a lawyer-like manner, and the art of accurate and persuasive expression, both written and oral, upon legal matters. Due attention is also given to the economic and sociological problems of our times in their relation to the law, and to the fields of broad and varied cultural knowledge which the study of the law opens up.

Objectives

The objectives of the Law School are to give students a sound foundation in the principles of law and equity and the reasons underlying the historical development of these principles; practice in thinking through concrete legal problems and in the practical application of legal principles to present-day problems and conditions; an understanding of court practice and procedure; and to stimulate and guide students in the development of legal acumen, a high sense of honor and professional duty, and a social consciousness that will enable them to be a credit both to their profession and to society.

History

The law school of Golden Gate College was established in 1901 by the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of San Francisco. It was the first law school in California to offer evening instruction.

Golden Gate College, an affiliate of the Y.M.C.A., is a non-profit educational institution of collegiate grade. The Law School was originally incorporated on June 1, 1910, with the right to confer degrees. Golden Gate College, including the Law School, was incorporated under its own name in 1923.

Location

Golden Gate College is located at 200 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco. This central location in the downtown district of the city makes it readily accessible to anyone residing or employed in the bay region.

In the Civic Center, three blocks from the College, are conveniently located the City Law Library, to which the students have access, the State Supreme Court, the District Court of Appeals, and the Municipal and Superior Courts, which afford unusual opportunities for advanced research and observation of trial procedure.

Law Library

The school maintains an up-to-date and adequate library for law study and student research.

Sets of books on California Law include the California Supreme Court Reports and the Appellate Courts Reports, the California Pacific Digest, McKinney's New California Digest, California Jurisprudence, Sheperd's California Citator, Bancroft's Code Practice and Remedies, California Statutes and Amendments and the California Codes and General Laws.

Books on Federal Law includes The Code of the Laws of the United States, United States Code Annotated, U. S. Supreme Court Reports, Supreme Court Reporter, U. S. Supreme Court Digest, Notes on United States Reports, Federal Reporter, Federal Supplement, Federal Digest and Federal Rules Digest.

Encyclopedias include American Jurisprudence, Corpus Juris and Corpus Juris Secundum.

Case Reports include American Decisions, American Reports, American State Reports, English and American Annotated Cases, Lawyers Reports Annotated (L.R.A.), Annotated Law Reports (A.L.R.), Northeastern Reporter, Atlantic Reporter, New York Common Law Reports, New York Reports, New York Supplement, Southwestern Reporter, Northwestern Reporter and Pacific Reporter.

Law Reviews include California, Stanford, Southern California, Oregon, Washington, Harvard, New York Tax, and Michigan, and in addition current subscriptions to Yale, Columbia and Georgetown.

Standard reference works and treatises include Words and Phrases, the American Digest System, Restatement of the Law, Sheperd's Citators, Uniform Laws Annotated, Wigmore and Evidence, Williston on Sales, Williston on Contracts, Tiffany's Real Property, Merten's Law of Federal Income Taxation, Burdick's Law of Crime, Fletcher's Cyclopedia Corporations, Beale's Conflict of Laws, Remington on Bankruptcy, Pomeroy's Equity Jurisprudence, Scott on Trusts, and Powell on Real Property. In addition there are many single volume textbooks.

The extensive facilities of the Federal Court and the San Francisco City and County law libraries are conveniently available to students for use in research and brief writing.

Method of Instruction

The "case" method of study is used. This method is recognized as furnishing the best training for the student in the development of legal reasoning and comprehension of the principles of law. The cases are required to be briefed and presented for discussion and criticism during class. California cases, recent decisions, code study, law review articles and legal treatises are prescribed to parallel and supplement case book assignments.

In the matter of case books used and subjects covered, the examples of the University of California, Stanford, Harvard, Yale and other leading law schools are followed.

It is the belief of the faculty that the best results can be obtained by proper combinations of general and local authorities. While all the courses are based upon case books and text books embodying material taken from many common law jurisdictions, and this general foundation always receives its due and proper emphasis, each course is supplemented with instruction in California case and statutory law.

In the classroom the student participates in discussion. Particular emphasis is laid upon careful analysis, logical reasoning and accurate expression.

Classes

Classes meet three evenings each week, from 6:50 to 9:20 p.m. These classes are usually held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

Length of Course

The course in legal study leading to the LL.B. degree covers a period of approximately four school years. Classes begin in August, January and May. The College year is divided into two semesters and a summer session; a total of forty-five weeks each year.

There are three vacation periods during the year: two weeks in December, one week in May, and four weeks in July and August.

Students beginning in January are required to complete a four and a half year course for graduation.

Office Hours

The College office is open from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. on week-days.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS AND DEGREE

Requirements for Admission

Admission to Golden Gate College is based primarily upon evidence of the student's ability to profit from its educational programs. Such evidence includes the student's record of past performance in other institutions, the breadth of his training, his maturity and his experience.

Admission requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Laws are:

1. Evidence of completion of 60 units of college work with a grade average of C+ or better. (NOTE: Students who have earned an average grade less than C+ may be admitted only upon approval of the Dean of the School of Law. The successful passing of an entrance examination is also required of these applicants.)
2. The 60 units required for admission should preferably include a number of courses in the liberal arts, with concentration particularly desired in English, economics, history, political science, psychology, and sociology.

A limited number of students who do not have the necessary college entrance requirements may be admitted as special students. The number of special students will not exceed ten per cent of the total number of students admitted in the corresponding semester of the previous year. Such students must be at least 25 years old and have had such experience as may, in the opinion of the Dean, compensate for lack of college credits. Special students must successfully complete a series of entrance examinations which include a standard psychological test, an English test, and a legal-aptitude test. Only high school graduates with grades of B or better in two-thirds of their high school subjects may apply for admission as special students.

Advanced Standing

An applicant seeking advanced standing must present, in addition to the entrance credits of high school and college work, a record of his work in another law school, together with proof of honorable dismissal therefrom. If work has been pursued in another law school, the student will receive credit for such work only if it is equivalent in the amount and character required in this school. A minimum of two years attendance at this law school is required in all cases as a prerequisite to receiving the degree. Applicants may be required to undergo examinations in any of the subjects for which credit is sought. No student shall be considered for admission who has been dismissed from another law school because of a scholarship deficiency or other irregularities.

The granting of all advanced standing applications is within the discretion of the Dean of the School of Law.

The College reserves the right to make any changes in regulations, curricula, fees, and other published arrangements as conditions warrant.

Requirements for Degree

Requirements for the Degree of Bachelor of Laws are:

1. Completion of 84 semester units of specified law subjects, including a limited number of elective subjects.
2. A cumulative average of C+ in all law subjects.

Requirements for Advancement of Regular and Special Students

Students must maintain an average grade of C+ throughout the law course and must have an accumulated average of C+ in 84 units in order to qualify for graduation and the LL.B. degree. Students who fail to maintain a C+ average in any given year will be dismissed by the school for scholarship deficiency. Normally dismissal will be made at the end of the academic year, but the school reserves the right to dismiss at any time a student who fails to maintain the required standard.

Examinations, Attendance and Grading

One or more preliminary examinations and a final examination are held in each semester course.

Examinations must be taken at the time scheduled. Exceptions to this rule will be made only when it is impossible for students to be present. Permission to miss an examination and to make it up subsequently must be secured from the Dean in advance. A fee of $5.00 will be charged for examinations taken at a special time.

Attendance is required in at least eighty per cent of the class periods in each course.

It is the responsibility of the student to notify the college of any anticipated circumstances which will cause him to be absent from classes for one or more consecutive weeks or for more than twenty per cent of the scheduled sessions.

Students who have been absent for two consecutive weeks from any class and who have not arranged with the Registrar for an authorized leave of absence will be automatically dropped from the course.

Withdrawals

Students who find it necessary to withdraw from Golden Gate College must notify the Registrar promptly in writing or in person of their intention to discontinue classes, stating in full their reasons.

Students who are absent for two consecutive calendar weeks without being given an authorized leave of absence by the Registrar will be automatically dropped from the College rolls.

A student who, at the time of withdrawal, has not paid in full his current charges for tuition and other fees, cannot be granted an honorable dismissal or statement of work completed until all outstanding charges are paid.

Students attending under the G. I. Bill, who withdrew from school during the semester, are required to return their books to the College bookstore.

Veterans

Golden Gate College is approved for training under Public Law 346 (G. I. Bill) and Public Law 16 (for disabled veterans).

Veterans who have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable may be eligible for educational benefits under the G. I. Bill. It is recommended that the veteran contact the local office of the Veterans Administration regarding specific details of his eligibility.

Veterans must enroll before the end of the second week of the semester to obtain full tuition from the Veterans Administration.

If a veteran has not obtained authority from the Veterans Administration, he must make payments for fees, books and supplies. Should a veteran receive his authorization after enrolling, he will be eligible to receive reimbursement.

California veterans who are no longer eligible for training under the G. I. Bill may still apply for educational benefits under California Veterans Educational Institute Act.

Tuition and Fees

The tuition fee in the School of Law is $11.50 per unit. In addition, there is an annual fee of $5.00 for the Golden Gate Law School Association which will be charged at the rate of $2.50 for the fall and the spring semesters. A graduation fee of $7.50 to cover cost of diploma, cap and gown, etc. will be charged. This fee is payable at the beginning of the final semester.

Students will be enrolled on a semester basis. When courses extend beyond a semester, the charges will be prorated between the semesters. A 6-unit course, which extends through two semesters, will be charged at the rate of 3 units for each semester. A 4-unit course, which completes 3 units within one semester and 1 unit in the next semester, will be charged on that basis, i.e., 3 units to the first and 1 unit to the second semester. Most semester costs may be figured as follows:

Fall or Spring Terms: Full Course, 9 units.....	$103.50
Law School Association Fee.....	2.50
	$106.00

(Tuition may be paid in four monthly payments. See schedule for details.)

Summer Term: 3 units.....	$ 34.50
4½ units.....	51.75
(Tuition may be paid in two installments)

Law Books

Although the college maintains an effective student law library, evening law students who are employed during the day will have very limited time for law library study and must consequently be equipped to do most of their preparation at home. The student will need a good law dictionary, the California Codes, the leading student text books required for certain courses, especially in the first year, and the casebooks on which most of the courses are based. Case-books and text books may be sold after the course or retained for future reference. If students buy used books when available and resell, the cost for books may be budgeted at $35 during the first year and $25 per year thereafter. If all books are purchased new and retained, the cost may run as high as $50 or $60 per year. (Veterans may not resell their books.)

Law books may be purchased through the College bookstore at list prices.

Bancroft-Whitney Prize

The Bancroft-Whitney Law Publishing Company awards a six volume set of Jones on Evidence to the honor student of the graduating class.

Recorder Publishing Company Prize

The Recorder Publishing Company awards a year's subscription to the advance sheets of the California Reports and Appellate Reports, to the graduate who made the most progress during his last year in the law school.

Golden Gate Law School Association

Professional and social activities in the law school are arranged by the officers of a student organization, the Golden Gate Law School Association. Opportunity is thus afforded to become socially acquainted with the other men and women students and with the faculty members.

Kappa Tau Epsilon

This honorary professional fraternity is open for membership, on a scholarship basis, to students in the School of Law who have been admitted to their third year.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

The curriculum consists of courses which are intended to cover the entire field of law with sufficient comprehensiveness to enable the diligent student to meet successfully the problems of bar examinations in California and elsewhere. The program of instruction is arranged, as far as possible, to present the fundamental, basic courses during the first and second years, and the more advanced and specialized courses during the third and fourth years.
