PREFACE

With great honor, I proudly present the first edition of the Business & Technology Forum. The focus of this journal is to present readers with the pressing issues effecting every aspect of business and technology. These issues include securities, copyright infringement, genetic alterations, taxes, employment law, and cyberspace. This year's articles include a discussion of a landlord's right to go out of business, asserting personal jurisdiction in the context of the Internet, impact fees, and the unlawful access of content on a secured website.

I would like to thank my writers, Hugo Castillo, Shari Cruse, Patricia De Fonte, and Ryan Thomas for their hard work and determination. Many special thanks to the Editor-in-Chief, Stacey Ravetta, for her endless words of support. Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to all my friends and family for their encouragement.
