LAW LIBRARY REARRANGEMENT

Changes are occurring in the Law Library which will allow the accommodation of more students and materials and improve the study atmosphere offered law students and faculty members. Unfortunately, this will result in some inconvenience while the rearrangement is being accomplished.

Presently, some of the stack areas are being reorganized. The Library has planned this move so that minimum numbers of books are off the shelves at any one time. Library personnel will assist in locating any out-of-place book. The Library will close on Sat. and Sun., August 30-31, on the regular holiday, September 1 and on Saturday, September 6 to allow for the major movement of furniture and for painting and cleaning.

The mezzanine study area will be improved by the removal of the vending machines to the area outside the Law Review office. More reserve book stacks will be available when the circulation desk is moved, thus making current issues of law reviews and other periodicals more accessible to users. A large number of additional seats will be available. Contact with the Reference Librarians will be facilitated by the relocation of their work area to the first floor, near the circulation desk.

The Director of Law Library Services, Nancy Carol Carter, is available to answer any questions about the rearrangement or scheduled closing dates. Her office is on the mezzanine of the Law Library, telephone 391-7800, extension 366.

Everyone interested in becoming part of the CAVEAT staff is invited. Staff needs include a Managing Editor, a Staff Photographer, and staff writers to keep track of recent events at the law school, as well as significant legal decisions and current court calendars in San Francisco Bay Area.

We are also currently exploring the possibility of having advertisements or student classifieds printed in CAVEAT. If you think this is a good idea or if you're interested in becoming the Advertisement Editor, come to the meeting.

You do not need to be part of the staff to contribute articles or opinions to CAVEAT. Simply leave anything you'd like printed in the CAVEAT mailbox in the faculty center by Thursday noon, and it will be published in the following Monday's edition.

If you are interested in joining the staff but cannot make next Thursday's meeting, leave your name and phone number in the CAVEAT mailbox or phone Dianne Niethamer at 465-0916.

fill out a questionnaire and return it to the Registrar when you registered, please stop in the Dean's office and
fill one out.

FACULTY CENTER CONGESTION

Please help reduce the congestion
in the faculty center by not lingering

there.

CURRENT ADDRESSES

Molly in the Dean's office would like to remind everyone that she should have your current address at all times.
A letter or notice sent to the address on file is considered official notice by the University. If you are in doubt as to your officially listed address, check with Molly and make sure it is correct.

BULLETIN BOARDS

All students should read the Dean's bulletin board each time they come into school as important notices,
schedule changes, and class cancellations
are posted there.

Also, it's good to get into the habit of looking at the student message board next to the elevator by the Dean's office. Emergency messages are sometime posted when they are least expected.

Views expressed in CAVEAT are not necessarily those of the law school
nor of the Student Bar Association.
