RUSSIAN ENVIRONMENTAL LAWYERS COMING!

GGU LAW SCHOOL TO HOST LUNCHEON

Thursday, January 18 the Golden Gate University School of Law Environmental Law Society and Environmental Law faculty will host environmental lawyers and law students from Russia for a brown bag lunch.

The Russian legal practitioners are from that nation's far east region and are meeting with Golden Gate Law representatives to share ideas on how to preserve their home area from exploitation of its natural resources.

Russia's far eastern region is rich in natural resources including minerals, gas, oil and timber as well as fisheries and the most biologically diverse forests in the world outside of the Amazon. Persons from all over the world including Russia are presently looking to exploit these resources.

Golden Gate Law School's Environmental Law program is in the forefront of environmental legal education and includes the Environmental Law and Justice Clinic which has been fighting the pollution problems in the Hunters Point area of San Francisco.

The Russian group is in California under the sponsorship of the Natural Heritage Institute. Golden Gate Law School's lunch will be at 12 noon in room 350 at 536 Mission Street, San Francisco.

Golden Gate University School of Law is located on the San Francisco campus of Golden Gate University which is accredited by the Western Association of School and Colleges. The Law School is approved by the American Bar Association.
