8% TUITION HIKE

PROPOSED TUITION INCREASE FOR '79 - '80
BUDGET COMMITTEE REPORT

Last Tuesday, the Budget Committee met to discuss the final proposed tuition increase for next year. Over the past three months, the members of the committee, Dean Judy McKelvey, Tony Pagano, Allan Cadgene, Michael Pitts, Dick Grosball, and Vic Abrunzo, have met to consider the school's projected budget with an eye on the many variables which must be included in reaching a realistic estimate of what both the institution's and the students' financial requirements will be for the '79-'80 school year. Taken into account were the inflation factor (a modest 10%), faculty and administrative staff salary increases, additional faculty and staff positions recommended by the ABA and AALS, and students' expected financial status and needs with a special emphasis on the preservation of a healthy cross-section of students with varied social, economic, cultural, and ethnic backgrounds.

The primary goal of the committee was to research all possible methods to increase the quality of the educational environment, and simultaneously, to minimize the burden of that increase on students' limited financial resources. Superimposed on this goal was the university's commitment, as a whole, to confine budget increases within the general guidelines recommended by the federal government.

The conclusion reached from our lengthy analysis and discussions was that the rise in tuition would be an 8% increase over the average cost per unit this year of $110.50. That means there will be an increase of $9 per unit which brings the cost of a unit at Golden Gate to $121. Last year, the increase finally hammered out over the summer by concerned students came to 16.5% per unit. Therefore, comparing last year's increase to this year's increase, there is a reduction of 8.5%.

In order to allow the student body to express its opinion of the proposed tuition increase there will be two meetings over the next two weeks at which Dean Judy and the student members of the budget committee will be in attendance. Students who attend will also receive more detailed information on how the tuition figure was developed.

LIBRARY MOVE: Students to Help

LAW LIBRARY MOVE

Moving of the law library is proceeding. By Monday, January 29, the law library will be in the new building. The major move will occur on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, January 26, 27, 28 and the law library will be closed those days. Please do not expect to have any access to library services for those three days.

Until the first floor of the old building is remodeled, the general library will operate out of the lower floor of the new law library. The general library will be completed about March 1. At that time the general library will move into its remodeled space and the law library will expand into the entire new space. The major impact of the sharing arrangement will be that many law library books will be stored and unavailable for several weeks. All California materials, federal legislative and court reports, general reference, tax looseleaf, formbooks, reserve books, and periodicals will be available for use. Monographs, foreign materials, federal administrative agency reports and statutes of states other than California will not be available.

Temporary moving jobs, paying $3.50 per hour, are immediately available. Please see Joyce Harmon or Nancy Carter if you want to work. Several workers will be needed on the weekend of January 27-28 and your help would be appreciated. Below is a tear-off sheet.

Student library movers for Jan. 27 (Saturday) and Jan. 28 (Sunday): Please report to the old law library at 562 Mission at 8:30 a.m. for assignment to a work crew. We will work at least until 5:00 p.m. each day.

If you leave the tear-off sheet below we will count on you to work all day. Let us know if you change your mind. Although we are asking for telephone numbers, we will not call you unless something unanticipated comes up.

The following information is needed for planning work crews and payroll appointment ($3.50/hr)

ANNOUNCEMENTS

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION MEETING: Wednesday, Jan. 24, at 3:00 p.m. in room 209. On the agenda are a discussion of the Future of the Women in the Courtroom Conference and a report on the status of the handbook. Other agenda items may be added to the list in the 2nd floor women's lounge, Chair is Ruth Ratzlaff (673-5752 or 642-1735).

PHI ALPHA DELTA: First meeting of the new semester will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 24, at 12 noon. The room number for the meeting will be posted on the PAD bulletin board in the hallway on Wednesday morning. Initial activity will be a dance in conjunction with the PAD Chapters at U.S.F. and Hastings. Plan to attend !!

PLACEMENT NEWS: Second year law students: the U.S. Attorney's Office in Las Vegas, Nevada has 5 summer positions available, one of which pays approximately $200 per week. (The other 4 positions are work-study.) Information on the nature of the job is available in the Law Placement Office. A representative from that office will conduct on-campus interviews in the Law Placement Office on Tuesday, January 30th. Please sign up if you are interested.

LONDON LAW PROGRAM OPENS: A summer program offering study in law relating to international business will open July 1, in London England. Sponsored by the University of San Diego, a feature of the program will be clinic internships with London firms. Both internships and the courses offered relate to international business products. The courses are: Comparative Antitrust, Comparative Business Enterprises, Comparative Products Liability, International Commercial Arbitration, International Insurance, and Tax on International Transactions. The outstanding faculty includes Warren Schwartz of Georgetown and Virginia, Detlev Vagts of Harvard, Ian Kennedy and Clive Schmitthoff of King's College London, Richard Roddis of Washington, and Charles Irish of Wisconsin. University of San Diego also sponsors summer law programs in Guadalajara, Oxford, Paris, and San Diego. For information contact H.L. Lazerow, Associate Dean, University of San Diego, 92110.

SOLAR INTERNSHIPS: The Solar Energy Research Institute (SERI) at Golden, Colorado, will sponsor a summer law student intern program to begin in June of 1979. SERI is a federally funded research institute that offers unique combinations of specialists, facilities, and programs for collaboration on problems related to all forms of solar energy. The SERI summer law student intern program provides an opportunity for eight law students to work at SERI for 11 weeks in the summer of 1979. Law students who will have completed their first year of law school by June of 1979 may apply. The intern program will begin June 11, 1979, and terminate August 24, 1979. Each student will be paid $300/week, or $3,300 for the 11 week intern program period. Each law intern will write a major (150-200 pages) paper on some aspect of solar law that will be suitable for publication. Law students interested in applying to SERI for consideration as a 1979 summer law intern should submit: (1) current resume, including a list of all courses taken in law school, grades received for each course, class ranking, and any publications (2) a description of any experience in or activities relating to solar energy or natural resources (3) the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of three professional or academic references (4) a brief description of the proposed major paper on solar law. Completed applications should be submitted to: Prof. Jan G. Laitos, Technology Commercialization Division, Solar Energy Research Inst., 1536 Cole Boulevard, Golden, CO 80401. It would be helpful if all applications were submitted to SERI by January 31, 1979. SERI will make its final decision on applications by March 15, 19

CLIENT COUNSELLING COMPETITION

Students, particularly Second Year students, are wanted to participate in the CLIENT COUNSELLING COMPETITION. GGU will enter two teams (of two students each) in the Western Regionals of the National Client Counselling Competition. The Competition will take place on Saturday, March 10th.

What Is A Client Counselling Competition? Student teams are asked to interview a "Client" (who is an actor chosen to assist in the Competition) and Counsel that client on a problem, which this year involves a question of whether the Client has a worthwhile legal malpractice case against another lawyer for allegedly mishandling a personal injury case. The students are judged on their ability to be good listeners, effective questioners, sound legal advisors and empathetic human beings. It helps if you have a decent personality, even if you don't start off with much legal knowledge.

Why Should You Bother With This Competition? Because nearly every lawyer or firm who is going to consider hiring you for a permanent job after graduation is concerned with your ability to deal with "The Clients". Of course you will assure the prospective employer that you will be wonderful with his/her clients. And, so will every other one of the 200 recent graduates who will apply for that job. How does that lawyer know you are the person he/she should hire? Because you will be able, at a minimum, to point to a "Certificate of Participation" in the GGU Intra-Mural Competition if you participate in our program. And, if you are chosen to be one of the two teams from GGU in the Regional Competition it really does mean something to the employer.

A member of last year's GGU team attributes a major part of her success in landing the job she wanted to the fact that her prospective employer (a large firm) was absolutely enthusiastic to be getting a person with demonstrated skill in Counselling and Interviewing.

Who Are We Looking For To Be Involved In This Program? You know yourself best of all. If you think you have the kind of personality that can do the things I have described above, then come join us. If you happen (in your prior-to-law-school life) to have been professionally involved in Interviewing and Counselling so much the better. You are certainly the kind of person who has great possibilities in such a competition. If you are a social worker, psychologist, personnel technician, job or drug counsellor, food stamp eligibility worker, community relations worker or otherwise regularly learning about the problems of others and helping them with advice than you should participate in the Program.

Look! What Do You Have To Lose? The Program lasts only about seven weeks, and the potential benefit to you is far greater.

APPLICATIONS FOR GRADUATION (June, 1979) are long overdue. If you truly intend to graduate in June, you should immediately see someone in the Registrar's office for a graduation application and an appointment for a graduation interview.

Caveat Hassle

This last Tuesday afternoon, January 16, 1979, the SBA reviewed last semester's performances by the co-editors of the Caveat, Ed Garson and Jeff Kerwin.

The matter came to the SBA's attention due to a rift resulting from an unclear delineation of duties between the co-editors and equal performance of those duties by each.

There is a tuition remission of one half the tuition per semester for those duties performed by each editor. Concern was expressed in the meeting as to whether each co-editor was doing an equal half of the work required and if that work which had been performed, warranted the tuition remission received, and was reflected in the quality of the Caveat.

Time consuming duties which seemed to be difficult to divide and account for were for example: the layout, administrative duties, collecting monies from ads, and reporting. To resolve the difficulties, the editors drafted a compromise which the SBA voted for by two thirds of those present. The compromise results in Ed working for the next five weeks as Editor-in-chief, doing layouts and administrative duties, while Jeff will do reporting. The last seven weeks will reverse the duties with Jeff as Editor-in-chief, while Ed in turn will be reporting.

Much of the debate concerned the question whether the SBA has the power of control over the Caveat. The SBA constitution makes no explicit mention of the relation between the SBA and the Caveat. Though several members argued that the Caveat was independent of the SBA, the body passed a resolution declaring SBA control of the Caveat, specifically that the SBA has power to remove Caveat editors for "serious misconduct". While the resolution bore no immediate fruit, the SBA plans to develop more explicit guidelines for the issue, presumably with proposed constitutional amendments to be presented to the SBA some time this semester.

To the Editors:

This letter continues the debate on the ideological predilections of Golden Gate students in particular, and of society in general. Specifically, we find it necessary to respond to the letter of Carl Borden (Caveat 1-8-79).

On the one hand, Mr. Borden acknowledges that "we have a long way to go before all vestiges of racism and sexism are eliminated from our society" and on the other hand, he adamantly denies that he himself is either racist or sexist. But his denials belie themselves when he admits that he gives "at least as much, if not more tolerance toward minority and women professors" as he does "to those who are white males". It is such paternalistic "tolerance" on the part of students which reveals that they do indeed consider women and minorities to be inferior or incapable. When minorities and women are held to a higher standard it is cavalier; when they are held to a lower standard it is chivalrous: either approach is imbued with chauvinistic arrogance.

As to the contention that students are well-equipped to objectively evaluate their instructors' teaching ability free from any racist and sexist irrationalism, we think it is founded on shaky ground. Since racism and sexism pervade the rest of society, how could GGU students be exempt, and why?

BAR EXAM CANDIDATES

Will you approach the Bar Exam confident that you have done everything possible to assure success? Will you avoid the wasted effort, loss of income, and personal embarrassment of flunking?

You have already spent thousands of dollars and years of your life on school, hundreds of dollars and weeks of study on cram courses. Now, as you face this final hurdle, you may substantially increase your chances to obtain the prestige and compensation of a legal career for only a few dollars and a few minutes a day more!

You can increase your concentration, multiply your retention and recall, and maximize your potential to succeed on the Bar Exam by employing an effective, scientifically constructed cassette tape designed by James Hoenig, J.D., Ph.D.

Dr. Hoenig practiced law with O'Melveny & Myers in Los Angeles before devoting his full efforts to the study of psychology and hypnosis, obtaining a Ph.D. in Counseling Psychology and an M.A. in Hypnosis/Hypnotherapy. As a student, Dr. Hoenig used the techniques he developed to:

- Graduate first in his undergraduate class.
- Phi Beta Kappa
- Straight "A" grade average
- Graduate first in his law school class.
- Order of the Coif
- President of the Stanford Law Review
- Law Clerk to the Chief Justice of the United States
- Pass the California Bar Exam.
- The first time

Dr. Hoenig now practices as a consultant to attorneys in the application of forensic and investigative hypnotic techniques to their professional work and personal needs.

"Every Bar Exam candidate with whom I've discussed the exam has been of above average intelligence, and each one has studied hard. Yet only 52% of these qualified men and women pass the exam. Why? I believe that the candidate who learns to mobilize his potential through my techniques of relaxation and effectively tailored suggestion is the candidate who will pass the exam."

To help you do that, these techniques are available on a standard cassette tape specifically tailored for the Bar Exam or Baby Bar candidate. Each tape includes two separate one-half hour sides:

Side A for daytime use, leaving you alert, aware, and full of energy.

Side B for nighttime use, helping you drift into restful, natural sleep.

Each tape is mailed with complete written directions for its most effective use.

WILL YOU PASS THE BAR EXAM? You have come a long way and have overcome many obstacles on the road to the prestige, income, and satisfaction of being an attorney. Now take the one more simple and inexpensive step that may assure success.

MOLE TRIBUTE

- Q. What is a mole made out of?
A. Molecules.
- Q. How did the lady feel after attending an Erherd Seminars Training Session led by a mole?
A. Molested.
- Q. How did the revolutionary mole propose to overthrow society?
A. By using moletov cocktails.
- Q. What happens when a mole falls into a volcano?
A. He becomes Moleton.
- Q. What horrible disease does Johnny have?
A. Molescular Dystrophy.
- Q. What is the name of a best-seller Mole cookbook?
A. Roots, by Alex Moley.
- Q. Why did the mole continue to do obscene things in the closet after his mother told him not to?
A. Moles are already blind.

THANKS TO:

The Mole-Earth Joke Book, compiled by the Mothers of Construction Crew, Ill. by Mark Mitcham, who writes:

One of our first jobs was building some hermitages for some nuns, so naturally we threw out a few hermit jokes. Some of these were fairly good/bad, but we soon ran out of material. None of us being moles, we turned to mole jokes. I'm not sure why; but everybody knows that moles are much funnier than hermits, and don't get offended nearly as easily.

As the fad for Polish (or Black, Italian, etc.) jokes rages on, people tend to overlook minority groups such as the moles, who are entitled to their fair share of discrimination, and are more than willing to help ease the pressure on the more over-worked minorities.

PREZ CORNER

PARTY! PARTY! PARTY! Say farewell to the place where you've spent so many tedious hours during your law school career. The SBA will have a scholarship fundraising, good-bye to the library party on Saturday, January 27th in the present law library. THE GALA EVENT OF THE YEAR! All the details have not been worked out yet, so watch for posters in the hall this week for more details. We need people who are willing to be disc jockeys and ticket sellers at the door. WE NEED SPEAKER SYSTEMS AND RECORDS. Any students with records, speakers, or info on who has them or where we could get them, please call me immediately at 863-7880. Anyone willing to help organize the party, please call me immediately. We need your help. Also, Nancy Carter and her staff will be moving all of the books out of the library on that weekend and their goal is to move most of the books out of the main room in time for the party on Saturday night. She needs students to help with this move. You will be paid for this work. So, help make the party a success, help Nancy Carter, and get paid at the same time. SEE YOU SATURDAY. ALL STUDENTS, FACULTY, STAFF, AND FRIENDS ARE WELCOME.

SBA MEETING: Tuesday, 5:00 p.m., room 207.
Agenda: Y Passes, budget allocations, plans for spring semester, party, misc.

Y PASSES: The SBA did not get to discussing renewal of the Y passes at last Tuesday's meeting. I have scheduled discussion of the passes as the first agenda item this Tues., so a decision should be reached. Watch the vending machine for details.

PICK UP YOUR BOOKS LEFT OVER FROM THE SEA BOOKSALE: MONDAY, TUES, AND WED. in SBA office
Hours: 10:00-1:30, 3:00-4:00, 6:00-6:50.
Please pick them up one of the three days. I do not want them left forever in the SBA office. Checks for books sold will be ready next week. I will have check pick-up times printed in next week's Caveat.
